Studio Policies 2010-2011 Please keep for your records

1. Explanation of Tuition and Payments

There are 35 weeks of piano lessons scheduled during the school year, beginning in September 2010 through June 2011. , Aaron's tuition structure allows for a minimum and maximum number of lessons during that time. Families pay a fixed amount at the beginning of each month or term, based on their weekly lesson length. For that amount, Aaron will guarantee a minimum of 30 lessons and a maximum of 35 lessons (2 of which may be playing classes) during the 10-month time period. Aaron will keep track of attendance carefully on a week-to-week basis. This tuition structure allows an acceptable cushion for attendance (see #2 below), and eliminates the need to adjust tuition for missed lessons, unless the number of lessons falls below the number of lessons guaranteed for the year (30).

2. Absences

If you fall below the minimum guaranteed number of lessons (30), Aaron will offer a make-up for up to 2 lessons during the summer of 2011. No adjustment to tuition will be made. Valid reasons for absences include: school conflicts (music/arts-related, not sports), sickness, broken bones, and family emergency/extenuating circumstances. Family vacations and "no-shows" do not count toward any missed lessons. You will be reimbursed in full for any lessons missed on Aaron's behalf that put you below the minimum guaranteed number of lessons for the year.

3. Cancellation of Lessons

A 1-month courtesy notice is required to cancel any lesson for which you have already paid, if you decide to discontinue lessons during the school year. Pre-paid tuition will not be reimbursed for the first month of cancellation unless Aaron is able to fill the time slot for your lesson.

4. Adjustment of Lesson Time

If you would benefit from a longer lesson than you started the year with, a tuition adjustment will be made. Switching to a shorter lesson length midway through the year is not allowed.

5. Registration Fee and Additional Expenses

The registration fee for 2010-2011 is $75.00 for each student taking piano lessons. This fee reserves your time slot in Aaron's studio for piano lessons for the year 2010-2011. This fee does not cover books and is not applied toward tuition for the school year. There may be additional fees, depending on participation and recital location.
